+ Description

The Fête de la Musique is one of the cultural events that punctuate the French year. This event, where the population is both an actor and a spectator, is perpetuated in Obernai with the will to meet the expectations of all listeners.

The program emphasizes the diversity of musical styles, from the Athic courtyard to the André Neher square, to bring together a large audience: rock, pop-rock, funk, classical music, French song... The participants are Sunday musicians, students or professionals and they have in common the same passion.
